

Upon submitting an application, members must provide all documents required by the Exchange to support their application for coverage.

Types of documents the Exchange may request to prove identity, eligibility status, or income:

- Citizenship
- Immigration
- Yearly Household Income
- Self-Employment
- Unearned Income
- Veteran Status
- Incarceration
- American Indian / Alaska Native
- Employer-Sponsored Coverage
- No Minimal Essential Coverage
- Residency
- Social Security Number

Failure to submit documents within 90 days will ultimately result in either a loss of APTC and/or eligibility for coverage. Members will not be able to apply again until the following Open Enrollment period.

CMS and Covered CA send notices to members advising what information is needed and by when to avoid termination of eligibility or loss of APTC. As of July 2017, Molina no longer sends a subsequent notice for FFM members.
